Practicing Studio Painter, Printmaker and Clay Artist, Seattle WA

MFA The Claremont Graduate School

Christine holds an MFA from The Claremont Graduate School and has taught drawing, painting and printmaking at the college level. She is a practicing artist and has also had a career as a landscape designer.

Since moving to the Northwest, she has shown her work in national and regional juried and invitational exhibitions

Artist Statement: There is a rhythm to life, to the day, to the moment—though in our life of moments we may not recognize this music and be the less for it. What is most likely to remind us of this measured flow of connections that is our birthright, if not the personal vision of the artist?
